Interview With a Democratic Senator on the Silver Question and the Prospects for 1880.

The Washington (D. C.) Post of Mon-day prints an interview with Senator Barnum, of Connecticut, in which the day prints an interview with Senator Barnum, of Connecticut, in which the Senator is represented as saying of the vote on the Matthews resolution: "It as a friend of our public school system, shows a two-thirds majority for the Sil-

"But suppose a full Senate votes on the bill?" asked the reporter.

"It will not alter the result. Windom, who voted with us on the resolution, will vote for the bill; he said so. Oh, it's a foregone conclusion that the bill will become a law, even over the veto, if it comes to that."

"Will it disrupt the Democratic party?"
"No sir, it will not disturb the party at all. The Democrats who oppose the Silver bill will acquiesce and stand to their principles just as truly as if their policy had been adopted."

"General Ewing, and some others, have predicted otherwise."

"They'll find themselves mistaken. The passage of the Silver Bill will settle the whole question, and the party will take its course as united and solid as ever. We do not believe that it is the best financial policy, but the difference does not involve an abandonment of our principles. No sir (smiling), the party will not get rid of uso easily. We will stand by it."

"Then there's no danger of this question splitting the Democracy in the campaign of 1830?"

"Not any that I can see. The question

"Not any that I can see. The question will be settled long before that time. It may bring about matters so that New York will not be necessary in 1880, and then a Western man will be nominated. That is quite likely."

"How would Eastern Democrats take that."

"It's too far off yet to tell what will be the issues, or anything about the result;
but the Eastern Democrats will support always have done. We favored Tilden nominate Tilden?"

"Not unless he possesses the requisit element of strength. That would aid by giving him some sympathy."

"Tilden is bitterly censured in some parts of the country for his course after the election."

"He couldn't have pressed forward and made a fight for office. That would not do. Governor Tilden is a very able and judicious man. I have never seen a paper emanate from him that was not full of statesmanship."

"Some say he is too old for renomination."

"That's no objection, but as I said, the convention is too far off to speculate about."

"What do you think of Hayes and his its latestion?"

Administration?"

"He will be left without a party by the time his term is served out. It seems to me if I had been in his place I would have supported Packard if it took every man, woman and child in my own party. By repudiating Packard he clouded his own title. He put a deed on record with an acknowledged mortgage before it; but we must accept all that he gives us that is right. We must take good government, no matter where it comes from, and reject the bad. His party is now trying to force him to take refuge with us, but we don't want him. There's no room in our party for him, but we will give him support when he does right."

OUR MORGANTOWN LETTER

Arrival of Lient. Ingalls, the New Professor - President Thomp-son Touches Upon Evolution in a Sermon.

MORGANTOWN, January 29.

MORGANTOWN, January 29.

Editors Intelligencer:
Our quiet, classic little town jogs along about the same in all kinds of weather. We have been having quite a variety of this blessing during the last week, sometimes wet, sometimes during the last week, sometimes wet, sometimes during the last week, sometimes wern, then cold again.

Dr. H. W. Brock, who went to Washington about five weeks ago, with President Thompson, with whom he expected to return, prolonged his sojourn abroad till Saturday evening last, when he arrived in town much recuperated by his trip. He was part of the time in New York city, and part of the time in Philadelphia, where he attended the medical lectures and visited the hospitals for the purpose of perfecting his knowledge of his profession of which he is a skillful, I well known and honored member.

Lieut. J. M. Ingall's, wife and daughter arrived Friday last, and have taken apartments and boarding at Mrs. Moore's, othe principal of the Morgantown Female Seminary.

spartments and boarding at Airs. Moores, the principal of the Morgantown Female Seminary.

The Presbyterian mite society met last Thursday evening at the residence of Col. Frank Thompson. The wit and beauty of Morgantown was largely represented from all denominations, and the occasion was, as usual, one of much pleasure and innocent enjoyment. There will be a meeting of the ladies and gentlemen of the M. E. Church Thursday evening next, at the parsonage, for the purpose of organizing a Methodist mite society. There is no reason why it may not be made a success.

President Thompson preached to the students of the University on Sunday atternoon, the 27th. We neglected to note either the exact wording of the text or the place where it might be found, but the meaning will be recognized if we quote from memory: "There is a way that seemeth right unto a man, but the end of that way is death."

The sermon would have been a strange exception to his sermon generally had in not been a good one. However, it was one that might not harmonize altogether with the views of his hearers in every particular. Hereferred to Tyndall as an able, earnest and honest investigator of truth, which we think is probably true, even if Mr. Tyndall does occasionally make mistakes like other men. Certain parts of his sermon favored strongly the theory of evolution, but whether in its fullest and completed development hed din not very deficitely when relating to its probably true, even if Mr. Tyndall does occasionally maner the mighty influences of habit and especially when relating to its probably true, even if Mr. Tyndall does occasionally maner than mighty influences of habit and especially when relating to its probably true, even if Mr. Tyndall does occasionally maner than mighty influences of habit and completed development hed din not very deficitely tatte. He pointed out in a vivid, clear, connected and impressive manner the mighty influences of habit and especially when relating to its probably true, is Boing.

Yesterday we made inquiry as to the serves. whereabouts of Gen. Robert Love. After this paper was put to press along came a copy of the Berkshire (Mass.) Courier, announcing that Robert was at work for the cause of temperance in that vicinity. Mr. Murphy in making a speech at Berkshire spoke of him as follows: "He commenced, speaking earnestly and plainly, saying he felt it an honor to address such an audience, and that he was gratified that his agents Messrs, Love and Miller, who, had the confidence of his whole heart, had, under the blessing of God, found favor and success in this field of their work." In another part of the same paper we find the following: "On Saturday evening the whole time was occupied by Mr. Love on the query, "Does it pay to be intemperate" Mr. Love went on in an address of power and the effect was seldom equalled on any platform, and 120 were gathered in."

Editors Intelligencer:

Permit me through the columns of your excellent paper to put an addendum to the notice in your last issue of the donation visit to the pastor of the West Union Presbyterian Church in Dallas, W. Va. The addendum came last Saturday evening in the form of a package containing a fine beaver over-coat. Pastors value such gifts beyond their intrinsic worth, because of the kind appreciation shown, and recognition of their work of faith and labor of love by the members of their charge. We assure the kind of faith and labor of love by the members of their charge. We assure the kind donors that the over-coat is a good fit and will always be a rememberance of the kindness and love of the donors.

Hansas City Bank Troubles.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., January 30.—At a late hour last night the following notice, signed by the officers of the bank, was left for publication at the newspaper offices:

"At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the First National Bank of Kansas City, held this evening, they considered and voted that the bank discontinue business. This step is rendered necessary by a shrinkage in our deposits of over $350,000 within the last few days, which, added to the continuous very large reductions of the last few months, aggregate a much larger amount, and by the pros-added to the continuous very large to ductions of the last few months, aggregate a much larger amount, and by the prospect of a continuance of the present monetary distress. The affairs of the bank will be rapidly liquidated and depositors may rest assured that in due time they will be paid in full."

The closing of the bank took the entire community by surprise, and there was great excitement this morning.

There was a heavy run on the other banks this morning, the principal run being on the Mastin Bank, which paid every depositor in full, and announces that they are prepared for every emergency. Up to noon to-day they had received over fifty new accounts, one depositor paying in $90,000.

The excitement is now dying out, and it is not expected that there will be any further trouble.

NEW YORK, January 30.—Thomas Monaghan was arrested last night on a charge of killing Michael Bergen, a short time ago, in a dispute growing out of political differences, at Cincinnati, Ohio. During a quarrel last evening in Betz's brewery between Theobold Fluck, age 44, and Jacob Reychmann, age 37, the latter was fatally stabbed.

PONTEMOUTIL, O., January 30.—Harry Kinney, a young man living just outside the city, returning home at 11 o'clock last night, was attaked by a couple of tramps, who fired two shots, one passing through his coat lappel and the other taking effect in his abdomen, producing a serious if not fatal wound. He was robbed of a gold watch, chain, revolver, and a small sum of money.

The Autocedents of Disease.

Among the antecedents of disease are inertness in the circulation of the blood, an unnaturally attenuated condition of the physique, indicating that the life current is deficient in nutritive properties; a wan, haggard look, inability to digest the food, loss of appetite, sleep and strength, and a sensation of unnatural languor. All these may be regarded as among the indicis of approaching disease, which will eventually attack the system and overwhelm it if it is not built up and fortified in advance.
